Kills His Father in Defence of His Mother

A terrible sequel to family disorders that have existed for some years culminated on Sunday afternoon in 13-year-old Harold Braun killing his father, E. F. Braun of Westcott, by hitting him two or three times in the back of the head with a small axe.

It appears that Mr. Braun, who was known to have frenzied fits of bad temper coupled with a morose disposition at times, attacked his wife on Sunday afternoon after some days of quarreling and the two boys, Earl, 9 years old, and Harold, 13 years of age, succeeded in getting the attention of the father and allowing the mother to escape. The father then ordered the boys to take a team and water them and while they were away they heard more trouble at the home. They ran back to the house and found the father had the mother on the ground and was beating her viciously. The oldest lad, Harold, picked up a small axe lying nearby and hit his father in the back of the head to make him leave the mother alone. The boys then got their mother away and they all went to a nearby neighbors residence.

Dr. W. G. Evans was immediately called out to attend the mother and he found her badly bruised and injured, both eyes being closed and the face badly swollen and one arm and shoulder in very bad shape. After relieving Mrs. Braun Dr. Evans asked to be taken over to the home farm to see Mr. Braun and see if he could pacify him but on the way over the boy told the doctor what he had done. When they arrived they went to the spot where the trouble happened and found Braun still lying there but he was dead.

Dr. Evans immediately notified Dr. Clarke, the coroner, and Const. Jarman of the A. P. P. Olds, and they went out at once and took up the case. The young lad was brought into town and given in charge of relatives. The mother was also brought in so that medical attention could be given her.

The Inquest

Coroner Dr. Clarke and Const. Jarman summoned a jury composed of town business men on Monday and the jury met at Durrer's Undertaking Parlors where the body of deceased was lying.

The jury is composed of Messrs. A. McNaughton, A. Brusso, C. Adshead, J. M. Reed, A. G. Studer and J. Huget. After being sworn the jury elected Mr. J. M. Reed as foreman and they viewed the body after which the Coroner stated that they would not go into the case then as the Attorney-General's department had the matter in hand and consequently it would be a few days before the case could be gone on with. It was then decided that the jury should adjourn till Friday afternoon.

Spring work has been started in Didsbury with a rush. Chairman Berscht of the Public Works Committee has a gang on the streets grading the roads and fixing good permanent culvert around the corners. A good heavy grader belonging to the Mountain View Municipality under the operation of Mr. P. McCann has been engaged for the work and the roads are being put into good shape. Several ratepayers are expressing the hope that Councilor Berscht will also use his influence in getting them new sidewalks which are badly needed in places.

More New Welsh Settlers Coming to Didsbury District

Mr. L. C. Elliott and W. Lytleton, representatives of the Soldier Settlement Board, are busy making arrangements to receive three more new families into the Didsbury district. These three families are all coming from Wales and comprise twenty-four persons in all.

Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Hughes and five children all under the age of thirteen will settle on the S. W. 5-31-27-4, south west of Mr. McCulloch's farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jenkins, from Cardiganshire, and seven children, two of whom are boys 15 and 18 years of age, will locate on the S. W. Sec. 14-31-27-4, about a mile west of Burnside school.

Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Edwards and six children from Denbighshire, will take a farm near Mr. F. A. Folkmann. Three of these children are of workable age.

It is expected that these people will arrive about the end of the month and it is hoped that both then townspeople as well as the residents of the districts in which they will locate will give them a hearty reception and try to make them feel as welcome as possible.

MRS. E. B. CROWELL PASSES AWAY

The sudden death of Mrs. E. B. Crowell took place at her son's residence, west of town on Sunday at the age of 77 years. Mrs. Crowell had been a semi-invalid for some time but did not seem to be any worse than usual on Sunday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Crowell had gone out into the yard for a few minutes and while there they heard something that did not sound right in the house and went in to see what was the matter when they found the mother had fallen to the floor and passed away.

She came to the Didsbury district fourteen years ago with her husband and son, Mr. L. L. Crowell, from Dakota and has lived here ever since. She was born in Illinois. Her husband predeceased her two years ago and she has only one son, L. L. to mourn her loss.

Mr. and Mrs. Crowell will have the sincere sympathy of the whole district in the sudden loss of a loving mother.

A Romance of the Spanish Main CAPTAIN BLOOD by RAFAEL SABATINI

Copyrighted, 1922, by Rafael Sabatini

"CAPTAIN BLOOD," a Vitaphone picture with J. Warren Kerrigan
in the title role, is an adaptation of this thrilling novel.

SYNOPSIS

Captain Peter Blood, buccaneer, in command of his ship, the Arabella, named after Arabella Bishop, with whom he is in love, engages two Spanish ships in battle and overcomes them. After the fight he rescues Arabella and Lord Wade, an emissary sent to the West Indies by King James to make peace with piracy, and makes them his guests. The sight of Arabella stirs all his love for her, but he fears his career as a pirate has blasted all hopes of winning her love.

His lordship decided to seek additional information from Miss Bishop. For this he must wait until Pitt and Wolverstone should have withdrawn. He was hardly made to wait so long, for as Pitt rose from the table to follow Wolverstone, who had already departed, Miss Bishop detained him with a question:

"Mr. Pitt," she asked, "were you not one of those who escaped from Barbadoes with Captain Blood?"

"I was. I too, was one of your uncle's slaves."

"Did you ever sail with a Frenchman named Cahusac?"

"Cahusac?" Pitt laughed. The name evoked a ridiculous memory. "Aye. He was with us at Maracaybo."

"And another Frenchman named Levasseur?"

"Aye. Cahusac was Levasseur's lieutenant, until he died."

"Until he died?"

"Levasseur. He was killed on one of the Virgin Islands two years ago."

"Who killed him?"

"Captain Blood killed him."

"Why?"

"They quarrelled," he said shortly.

"Was it about a . . . a lady?"

Miss Bishop relentlessly pursued him.

"You might put it that way."

"What was the lady's name?"

"Miss d'Ogeron. She was the daughter of the Governor of Tortuga. She had gone off with . . ."

He cut her off with a sharp gesture, and she withdrew.

"I see. And—yet Captain Blood has not married her?"

"Not yet," laughed Pitt, who knew the utter groundlessness of the common gossip in Tortuga which pronounced Miss d'Ogeron the Captain's future wife. He paused in the doorway to impart a piece of information.

"Maybe it'll comfort you to know that the Captain has altered our course for your benefit. It's his intention to put you both ashore on the coast of Jamaica, as near Port Royal as we dare venture. We've gone about, and if this wind holds you'll soon be home again, mistress."

"Prudence?" Her voice was scornful. "What have I to do with prudence?"

"Nothing—as I perceive. But, at least, study generosity. I tell you frankly, ma'am, that in Blood's place I should never have been so nice. Sink me! To be sold into slavery! Uh!" His lordship shuddered. "And to a damned colonial planter!" He checked abruptly. "I beg your pardon, Miss Bishop. For the moment . . ."

"You were carried away by your heat in defence of this . . . sea robber." Miss Bishop's scorn was almost fierce.

His lordship stared at her again. Then he half-closed his large, pale eyes, and tilted his head a little. "I wonder why you hate him so," he said softly.

He saw the sudden scarlet flame upon her cheeks, the heavy frown that descended upon her brow. But there was no explosion.

"Hate him? Lord! What a thought! I don't regard the fellow at all."

"Then you should, ma'am." His lordship spoke his thought frankly. "He's worth regarding. He'd be an acquisition to the King's navy. A great man, Miss Bishop. A man worth regarding."

Miss Bishop was moved to sarcasm.

"You should use your influence with my Lord Sunderland to have the King offer him a commission."

His lordship laughed softly. "Faith, it's done already. I have his commission in my pocket." And he increased her amazement by a brief exposition of the circumstances. In that amazement he left her, and went in quest of Blood.

He found the Captain pacing the quarter-deck. With the amiable familiarity he used, Lord Julian slipped an arm through one of the Captain's and fell into step beside him.

"What's this?" snapped Blood.

"I desire, sir, that we be friends."

"That's mighty condescending of you!"

Lord Julian ignored the obvious sarcasm.

"It's an odd coincidence that we should have been brought together in this fashion, considering that I came out to the Indies especially to seek you." And he proceeded to explain himself and his mission.

"You're my guest aboard this ship," said Captain Blood, "and I still have some notion of decent behavior left me from other days, thief and pirate though I may be. So I'll not be telling you what I think of you for daring to bring me this offer, or of my Lord Sunderland—since he's your kinsman—for having the impudence to send it. But it does not surprise me at all that one who is a minister of James Stuart's should conceive that every man is to be seduced by bribes into betraying those who trust him."

Robert Burns' Poems Fetch Record Price at London Sale

Arsenal 50,000 Years Old

Archaeologists are investigating the accidental discovery near Rochester, Eng., of what seems to be a pre-historic factory for tools and weapons. Some 40,000 stone implements have been unearthed and the experts are of the opinion that about 50,000 years ago the place was a considerable arsenal, as things went then.

Promise Prince Fine Time In South Africa

Nothing Too Good For Heir to British Throne

Predicting that the Prince would have a glorious time in South Africa, J. S. Smith, the new high commissioner, said it was for the Prince to decide whether he wanted to drive a team of 16 oxen or whether he wanted to assume charge of anything else his heart could desire within South Africa.

The Dutch farmers of Cape Colony, Smith said, were vying with one another to provide the British heir with suitable horses for his use during the visit. Or, if the Prince cared to shoot lions, South Africa would provide plenty of them, or plenty of most anything in the wild animal line. If the Prince desired more feathers for his coat of arms, Commissioner Smith assured him South Africans could show their royal guests the best of their ostriches and invite him to select the choicest of their plumes.

Pet Lioness Put In Zoo

Animal Belonging to General Smuts Was Becoming Troublesome

General Smuts' lioness Sally, who is now twelve months old and well on the way to adolescence, has been condemned to the solitary confinement of a zoo cage at Pretoria.

Sally used to roam freely over General Smuts' farm, following the general like a faithful dog, but startling his guests considerably.

Recently sheep, game and poultry had been disappearing mysteriously, but Sally always seemed innocently aloof. Her diminished appetite for her customary food, however, combined with her rapid growth, placed her under suspicion, and she was removed to the zoo.

LUTHERAN CONFIRMATION

On April 19th, nine persons were received into communicant membership in the Lutheran Church by the rite of confirmation. After pointing out that the rite of confirmation was not a divine institution, but was introduced and upheld in the Lutheran Church that the children before confirming may be able to prove themselves as required in Cor. II: 28. The local pastor, Rev. C. Nissen, examined the class in the presence of the congregation and a host of friends. The children committed themselves exceedingly well, the class being confirmed in the English language. Two weeks previous a class of three were confirmed in the German language. The following were enrolled and confirmed:

RUGBY ITEMS

The entertainment held at Rugby on Monday, April 13th, was very successful the school-house being crowded to the doors.

The program consisted of numerous solos and a musical reading followed by the famous play entitled "Freezing a Mother-in-Law." Those who took part proved themselves artists and we hope we shall hear them again in the near future. This part of the program was concluded by singing "God Save the King," after which lunch was served.

The remainder of the night was spent in dancing, the "Home" orchestra furnished the music, assisted by Mr. Norman Tuggle and Mr. Art Wafel.

A Helpful Map of Alberta

It is surprising the amount of information that can be conveyed by a map, and that, too, in a few moments. What would take hours of reading to obtain from a book can be secured from a good map in a glance or two. This faculty of maps for imparting information readily and quickly cannot perhaps be better illustrated than in a new map just issued for free distribution by the Department of the Interior at Ottawa under the direction of Hon. Charles Stewart, the Minister. It is called the "The Land Map of Southern Alberta," although the word "southern" in the title is in need of some explanation, Alberta is larger than is commonly thought, the tendency being to leave out of consideration the less known northern half. This map portrays the province from the United States boundary to about 200 miles north of Edmonton.

The map is commonly called the Land Map of Southern Alberta because it conveys principally information about the fertile lands of that province. The scale to which it is drawn is 12 1-2 miles to the inch. It looks like a big checker board in variegated colors. A sprinkling of buff squares, for example, shows the vacant Dominion lands still open to homesteading outside the restricted area. Lands entered for but not yet patented are shown in red, grazing leases are quite appropriately depicted in green, while a liberal sprinkling of blue shows the privately-owned lands not at present occupied. The latter are for sale and the Department has taken the trouble in a series of small leaflets to list the names of the owners of each of these parcels, as well as to give a full description of the property and the prices and terms asked. The effect of this is to encourage settlement of lands not now utilized. Anyone, by naming the district he is interested in, can secure the list of unoccupied lands for sale from the Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department, which also distributes the map.

Many other features are shown besides the land above mentioned. Forest reserves are delineated; so are Dominion parks and timber berths, as well as the location of Dominion lands offices. In addition, Indian reserves, railways and the chief towns and cities are shown. The map conveys a wealth of information in a very easily obtainable form and should prove of material assistance to the intending settler and investor.

Prizes For Best Essay

The Women's Canadian Club of Calgary has arranged an essay competition for the young men and women of Alberta. The competition is open to young Albertans of foreign European parentage and its subject is an essay on "Canadian Citizenship."

The rules and prize list are as follows:

1. The Competition shall be open to all citizens of Alberta between the ages of 18 and 25 years who have lived in the province at least 15 years and who are born of foreign European parentage.
 2. Subject:—Canadian Citizenship: its privileges and responsibilities.
 3. Prizes: $110.00 divided as follows: First prize $50.00; second $30.00; third $20.00; fourth $10.00.
 4. Essay to consist of approximately two thousand words, and to be written in the English language.
 5. Competition to close September 1st, 1925, and the award to be made on October 15th, 1925. The Committee interprets "privileges" to include freedom of religion, freedom of speech, ownership of property, educational advantages, the right to the franchise; and "responsibilities" to include the duty of every citizen to respect our laws and institutions.
- It is hoped that the competition will tend to bring about a better understanding between citizens of foreign origin and those of Anglo-Saxon blood.

ALBERTA NORWEGIANS TO ATTEND CENTENNIAL

Many Norwegians settled in Alberta are planning to attend the Norwegian Centennial to be held in Minnesota in June, commemorating the hundredth anniversary of the first Norwegian settlement in America. President Coolidge and other prominent men, including prominent Canadians, will be in attendance. Alberta has many prosperous Norwegian settlers and some of the finest communities in the province have been built up by these people.

Immigrants who chanted and sang their happiness at arriving in Canada were witnessed recently at the Montreal Windsor Station when a batch of fifty canaries in six cages were housed there for a time waiting conveyance by train. They had already travelled over 3,000 miles from Liverpool and had a further prospect of another 4,500 until they reached their destination either at Vancouver or in some cases San Francisco.

Canada's Child Immigrants

The tide of immigration is again flowing Canadawards and prospects are that the number of incoming settlers this year will be in excess of those for any year since the outbreak of the war. It is also fairly evident that much greater care is being taken in the selection of immigrants by officers of the Department of Immigration and Colonization overseas than was formerly the case, with the result that there is a fairer chance of those actually arriving in this country making a success of their venture.

Better machinery for the placing of settlers from the British Isles and assisting them in making a real start has been created under the arrangements arrived at between the Canadian and British Governments through the medium of the Overseas Settlement Committee. There is reasonable hope, therefore, that while there may be an increase in numbers, there will be a still more striking improvement in the quality of our new settlers and in the probabilities of their success in Canada.

Especially satisfactory is the increased interest being taken both in Great Britain and in Canada in the subject of child migration and settlement in this Dominion. Last year a delegation was appointed by the British Government, on the request of the Canadian Government, to visit Canada and obtain first-hand information on this very important aspect of immigration, which delegation has made an instructive and constructive report. At the same time the Committee of the Social Service Council of Canada on Immigration and Colonization concentrated its attention last year upon the question of child and juvenile immigration, and it, too, has made a comprehensive report on the subject.

Unquestionably there is much to be said both for and against child immigration, although it is probably much easier to advance objections than it is to cite cogent reasons in support of such immigration, but the conclusions reached by both the investigating bodies above referred to appear to favor such immigration within reasonable limits, providing necessary care is taken in the matter of selection of these young immigrants, and proper supervision undertaken after their arrival in Canada, and of placement in foster homes or as apprentices, and later that they are protected and assisted until well established in Canada.

In support of child immigration there is the definite conclusion of the British delegation that the prospects for these boys and girls in Canada are better than they would have been had they remained in the United Kingdom. There is the further fact that Canada needs population, and that it is the desire of most Canadians that a preponderating number of immigrants should be of British birth. Then there is the argument that these children will more easily become adapted to Canadian ways and more readily absorbed into the life of the community than would be the case with those more advanced in years.

On the other hand it is urged that as many of these children are "Poor Law Children" who have become charges of Boards of Guardians through poverty or other failure of the home, or who have been committed to industrial schools for offences, or are orphans or "under-privileged" children whose homes are unsatisfactory for one cause or another, they constitute a real menace to Canada as future citizens and the parents of Canadian-born children.

The responsibility for final approval of children to be emigrated to Canada rests, however, with the Canadian Government officials in England who have it in their power to reject any child recommended for emigration. It follows, therefore, that if proper inspection and examination takes place and close inquiry made into the antecedents of each child, much of the danger to be apprehended from the above causes can be avoided.

Both the British and Canadian investigating bodies are unanimous in recommending against the immigration of very young children and they are agreed that only boys and girls who have reached the school-leaving age should be allowed to emigrate, except, of course, those who are accompanying their parents.

It is likewise the opinion of the Canadian investigating committee that after these children reach the age of eighteen, and are then discharged from their apprenticeship, it is still necessary that some plan of supervision, protection and helpful assistance be provided by the Department of Immigration if they are not to fall by the wayside instead of becoming happy and successful citizens, an asset rather than a liability to the Dominion.

Real Enterprises Will Have Plenty of Investors

"English visitors are sensible people and are unlikely to visit upon genuine Canadian enterprises their legitimate grievances in connection with Grand Trunk matters."

This is the remark of the Financial Times, in connection with statements regarding Canadian mines, made by Dr. McIntosh Bell, just before his departure for Canada, which have been largely used in the British financial press. Bell and his colleagues have an enviable reputation for energetic development by straight and fair financial methods.

In the course of an interview Dr. Bell gave a satisfactory account of the Keeley and Vipond developments in Ontario. He denied that Vipond had been acquiring neighboring property.

BLEMISHES OF THE SKIN

Are Proof the Blood is in a Weak and Watery Condition

One of the surest signs that the blood is out of order are the pimples and unsightly eruptions that break out on the face or body. The same condition is indicated by an attack of eczema or scrofula. You cannot get rid of these troubles by the use of purgative medicines, as so many people try to do. Purgatives merely gallop through the system and leave it still weaker. What is needed when the blood is shown to be out of order is a tonic which will restore its missing elements and leave the blood rich and red. For this purpose there is no other tonic can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, every dose of which helps enrich the blood, drives out impurities, and brings a new feeling of health and energy. Mrs. R. E. Bishop, Hawthorne, Ave., Hamilton, Ont., tells for the benefit of others what these pills did for her. She says:—"I was suffering terribly from Scrofula. I doctored with several doctors, but without success. My complexion was sallow, I had no strength, feeling very weak and languid. My neck was full of lumps called scrofula, and at times they were very painful. After trying several so-called blood medicines, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended to me and I got half a dozen boxes. After taking them I found a decided improvement in my appearance, and to my joy the lumps were disappearing from my neck. I persevered in the treatment, and finally the only sign left of the trouble was a scar on my neck where one of the swellings broke. Since that time I have been in robust health and heartily recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all suffering from impure blood."

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

British Families Welcomed

Women in Different Communities Had Houses in Order

The 23 British families, which arrived in Halifax, March 29, have been received in the various communities in which they have settled, with genuine cordiality, according to reports being made to Hon. J. A. Robb, minister of immigration. Officers of the land settlement branch of the department have directed the new arrivals to their homes, and in each community women of the neighborhood have set the houses in order, and in some cases even supplied the larder with immediate necessities.

Field Marshal Haig's Visit

Proposal is Made to Change Date of Arrival at Ottawa

A change in the date of the visit to Canada of Field Marshal Haig is proposed in a cablegram received by the Dominion command, G.W.V.A., from the London headquarters of the British Empire Service League. With the previous arrangements it was found that the governor-general, Lord Byng, could not be at Ottawa for the official welcome, so it is now proposed to advance the date of Haig's arrival to Sunday, June 28, instead of July 19, so that His Excellency may be present.

Under the new arrangement, the conference of the British Empire Service League will open in Ottawa on June 29, continuing for three days, after which the field marshal and Countess Haig, their daughter, Lady Alexandria, and party will make a brief tour of Canada, going west to Winnipeg.

London Living Space Crowded

Compressed Furniture and Bunks Installed in Newest Flats

The demand for living space in London is so acute that bunks, one above the other similar to those aboard ships which fold up out of sight when not in use, have been installed in some of the newest flats in the crowded City of London, where inches have to be taken into consideration whenever any building is being done.

Another innovation in the compressed furniture line is a "six-in-one" contrivance which includes a folding bed, washstand, chest of drawers, mirror, shoe rack, and space to place the bedding when the bed is not made up.

Great Britain, France and Italy are watching the Moslem drama. It may have vital consequences to all of them and to every white power with a foothold in Africa or Asia. Not that there is any danger of a holy war. Islam's internal wars must end and its ranks close before the green flag of the prophet becomes a menace. The continuing Islamic ferment, however, is not making the "white man's burden" any lighter, and at any time may take an ominous turn for the western world.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The holy carpet will not be sent from Cairo to Mecca this year, the Egyptian Government has decided owing to the condition prevailing in the Hedjaz. Warnings have been issued to the faithful concerning the dangerous conditions of the pilgrim route. The holy carpet, or Kiswah, is sent yearly by the King of Egypt as a covering for the Kalaba (Mahomet's tomb) at Mecca. It is a tissue of gold and brocade embroidered with texts from the Koran. The carpet is retained for only one year, a new one being made to replace it. The old one is cut up and sold to pilgrims.

FURTHER PROBE INTO ALLEGED FRUIT COMBINE

Ottawa.—Correspondence with provincial governments, growers' associations, and private growers was tabled in the house in connection with the Duncan investigation into an alleged fruit marketing combine in Canada. The correspondence comprises all the documents which the department of labor feels justified in revealing at this time, Hon. James Murdock explained.

The file shows that a special memo prepared by the register of the Combines Investigation Act has been sent to all the western provincial governments for their guidance as to the extent to which they may proceed against members of the alleged combine.

Only formal acknowledgments have been received so far from the provinces, except that British Columbia, through Hon. A. M. Manson, indicates that he has placed the matter for investigation in the hands of officers of his department.

Steamer Damaged By Fire

C.P.R. Liner Was Being Repaired At Birkenhead Dock

Liverpool.—The third-class furnishings of the Canadian Pacific steamer Montclair have been completely destroyed by fire. It was estimated that the damage would reach nearly $250,000. One fireman was overcome by gas fumes from the blaze. The steamer had just completed repairs at a dock at Birkenhead, across the Mersey, opposite Liverpool.

Dense clouds of smoke hampered the fire fighters. From the decks of the steamer Inca, at a neighboring dock, the firemen poured great streams of water on the white hold plates of the burning liner, but they made little impression. The cabins and gangways were choked with debris, while smoke and gas-filled passages were preventing entry of men with fire fighting appliances. The cause of the fire, which started in the third-class accommodations, was unknown.

Attack On Bulgarian King

Bullets Fired at Royal Car Kill One Passenger

Sofia, Bulgaria.—Considerable mystery surrounds the firing of bullets at the automobile of King Boris as the monarch was proceeding in the direction of the capital from a provincial town. The king had a narrow escape, one bullet grazing his moustache, carrying some of the hair with it. M. Itcheff, director of the Sofia museum, a passenger in the royal car, was killed, as well as a servant, and the chauffeur was wounded.

Virtually at the same time the shots were fired at the monarch, General Cheorghieff, one of the leaders of the movement which brought about the overthrow of the Stamboulsky Government in 1923, was killed by assassins in a street of the capital.

Want Hindenburg To Quit

Germany Does Not Want Him For President Is Report

London.—Strenuous efforts are being made behind the scenes in Germany to persuade former Field Marshal Von Hindenburg to renounce his candidacy for the German presidency, the Daily Telegraph has learned.

"Patriotic grounds of expediency to dispel the distrust which the mere mention of Hindenburg's candidacy aroused in allied countries, are being urged upon the German world war hero," the newspaper says.

Paris.—Joseph Caillaux's acceptance of the post of minister of finance in the cabinet now being formed by Paul Painleve, overshadowed all other recent developments in France's political crisis. Ontario Wants Western Coal

Good Market If Satisfactory Freight Rates Are Established

Toronto.—Howard Stutchbury, fuel commissioner for Alberta, who has been visiting this province in connection with the proposed introduction of Alberta coal to Ontario, stated that, through the co-operation of the Federal Government and the Canadian National Railways, shipments of the western fuel would be made to the east, and a careful check taken, which would definitely establish the out-of-pocket operating cost of the shipping of the coal during the summer period. The government had set aside $50,000 to guarantee the railway the difference, if any, between the $7 rate asked and the actual operating cost.

Mr. Stutchbury added that there was a general demand in Ontario for Alberta coal and that the campaigns conducted by Ontario municipalities, added to the appreciation of its quality by those who were able to obtain it, and assured the province of Alberta of an excellent market if satisfactory freight rates could be established.

Sir William refused to discuss the details of his negotiations with the Canadian Government.

Included in the company's recent shipment of 300 cattle to the Old Country were the 16 prize cattle winners this year at Brandon, Saskatoon, Regina, Calgary and last fall at Winnipeg.

Inexperienced Surgeons

Serious Operations Performed By Novices Are Deplored

Ottawa.—The surgical knife in the hands of a practitioner without sufficient surgical experience was deplored by Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion, M.P., Fort William, in an address to the Association of Officers of the Medical Services of Canada, at the retiring president's luncheon here. There should be a greater division between purely medical practice and surgery, Dr. Manion declared.

He declared that nowadays a young man can graduate with the letters M.D. after his name, and, without proper post-graduate experience, set his hand to the most difficult and dangerous operations. "This is nothing short of criminal," said the speaker. "I think that no young practitioner should be allowed to perform operations of any serious character unless he has had adequate surgical experience, some years in a big hospital, or other practical experience."

Dr. Manion declared he had been present—powerless to protest—when incompetent surgeons had performed operations.

London.—Another slight change in the programme of the Prince of Wales is reported by the Lagos correspondent of Reuters, who says that, while travelling in Nigeria, the party will avoid Oyo, 120 miles northeast of Lagos, owing to an outbreak of smallpox. A "durbur" or reception to native princes was to have been held April 20 at Oyo.

The Prince has expressed disappointment, but has deferred to the decision of the local medical authorities.

The act is expected to come up soon, and the attorney-generals of Saskatchewan and Manitoba will probably attend also, along with counsel representing the wheat pools and other farmers' organizations. The intention of the three ministers will be to watch the progress of the legislation in the interests of the farmers in their respective provinces.

ANTI-ASIATIC QUESTION GIVEN SOME ATTENTION

Ottawa.—British Columbia's request for an anti-Asiatic immigration law in Canada is still under consideration in Ottawa. In answer to questions by W. G. McQuarrie, of New Westminster, it was stated that the resolution passed by the British Columbia Legislature recommending the exclusion of Orientals, had been received and acknowledged, and was still under consideration.

"Does the government intend to take the action necessary to bring about the denunciation of all treaties which had the effect of depriving Canada of the power to regulate, control, or prohibit Asiatic immigration?" Mr. McQuarrie asked.

A written answer to this question reads:

"The government's action with respect to any and all treaties, will be decided in the light of all international and other material considerations."

British Corporation Buying Alberta Land

Will Purchase 250,000 Acres in Edmonton District

London.—The prospectus of the British Dominions Land Settlement Corporation, recently circulated here, provides for an issue of £750,000 7 per cent. bonds. The initial operation of the corporation, of which the Duke of Sutherland is chairman, is the purchase of more than 250,000 acres in the Edmonton district, divided into 160-acre holdings.

The land was purchased from the Canada Land Company and was originally owned by the Canadian Pacific Railway. A. M. Brown, of Medicine Hat, former president of the Canada Colonization Association, is the Canadian chairman of the corporation.

Large groups of immigrants will be sent out from the British Isles. They will be given financial assistance with which to establish their new homes and the money will be repaid to the corporation in small yearly installments.

The board of directors includes Sir Newton Moore, Sir Arthur Griffiths-Boscawen, Sir Robert Lynn and Sir Edward Mandeville.

Spain Completes Trade Treaty With Canada

First Negotiation of Canadian Commissioner With Foreign Government

Madrid.—Following up the temporary trade agreement between Canada and Spain, which was signed a few days ago, the negotiations have been finally concluded here.

The Spanish Government places Canada in a position to renew her trade relations with Spain on a favorable basis, although Canada has not obtained the benefits accorded the British Government by the Anglo-Spanish treaty of 1922, to which Canada did not, or rather could not, adhere as her tariff placed her in a different position from England. The conclusion of the agreement affords the first instance of a Canadian trade commissioner negotiating with a foreign government.

Miners Reach Agreement

Crow's Nest Pass Mines to Resume Operations

Coleman, Alta.—With the exception of the Hillcrest collieries, all the steam coal mines in the Crow's Nest Pass have now made an independent agreement with their employees, the last to do so being the McGillivray Creek and International Companies here. It is stated that work at these two mines will begin shortly. As the Hillcrest mine is now the only one in the district that is idle, it is expected that an agreement will be reached between the employers and the men at an early date.

AROUND THE TOWN

Mrs. S. Forsythe and children left on Sunday for a visit at her home in Brandon, Man.

Mr. Russell Berscht after spending a week with his parents here has returned to Calgary.

Mr. G. Liesemer who has been attending University is now home having been compelled to drop his course on account of illness.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Liesemer and Miss Evelyn Liesemer were visitors in Calgary last week.

The Rev. H. Clay will hold a special Easter Communion service in the Anglican church on Sunday, April 26th at 11 a. m., also evening service on Wednesday, April 29th, at 8 p. m. Everyone welcome.

The Calgary Kiddies did not receive a very good house on Wednesday night owing to so many things happening during last week. Their show, as usual, was of the usual high standard and it was unfortunate that they did not get a better house.

Manager Sharpe of the Opera House is providing a big treat for the baseball fans in the near future. This baseball picture is reported to be exceedingly good and one which everybody should see. It will be shown in Didsbury on Saturday night, May 2nd.

A "Star" automobile agency is to be established in town. Mr. W. G. Liesemer of Liesemer's hardware, has secured the agency for this medium priced car and no doubt it will have quite a good reception as it is fast becoming one of the most popular cars from one end of the Dominion to the other.

The town is making some great improvements on Shantz Avenue in drainage at the corners of intersecting streets. The good wide culvert turns are much better than the small ones that were in before and will help considerably in keeping the roads in better shape.

A splendid crowd greeted the "Smilin' Through" company at the Opera House last Saturday night and the comments were very favorable on their showing. The different parts were well taken and while the play was a little heavy and "wee-ty" in parts and the music might have been a little more sympathetic the show as a whole was enjoyed by most of those present. It is reported that this Company will again appear in the near future with another play which will be on comedy lines.

WALTHER LEAGUE

A most pleasant and enjoyable evening was spent when the Walther League Society of the West, at Lutheran church, entertained the newly confirmed at a banquet on Monday evening. Thirty members and guests presented themselves at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dagford, where the banquet was given. Two long tables had been prepared in rooms decorated with white and green streamers. After an address of welcome by the president of the Society, Mr. August Dagford, several members were called upon to speak. The banquet was followed by games and song. With a "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," the guests departed for their homes.
